Notice of Community Meeting

April 13, 2015

RE: An Invitation to Shape the Future of the Bagan Park
When: Monday, April 27, 2015 – 7 p.m.
Where: Ash Creek Park Condominiums - Community Meeting Room
11040 SW Greenburg Road

In early 2014, the City of Tigard purchased an undeveloped lot in your neighborhood to serve as a future neighborhood park. The 2.9-acre Bagan Park is located at 10910 SW Greenburg Road immediately south of the Washington Square Hotel (formerly Shilo Inn). A vicinity map—showing the park and surrounding area—can be found on the back of this notice.

An initial community meeting was held on March 11 to discuss the site master planning process for this property. Project staff and the landscape architect presented ideas for potential park amenities and listened to community input. Meeting minutes and park design concepts can be viewed at the city's website: http://www.tigard-or.gov/community/bagan_park.php

At the upcoming April 27 meeting, city staff and a landscape designer will be on hand to discuss a refined development concept for the park based on feedback received from the March meeting. Initial park improvements may include the installation of playground equipment, community gardens, pathway and picnic area. Neighboring property owners and residents are invited to share their ideas for the park at this meeting.

In November 2010, Tigard voters passed a $17 million park and open space bond measure. Money from the bond was used to purchase the property and will be used for the conceptual park design. Funding has not been identified for the development of this property, and the conceptual master plan is intended as a tool for future planning and capital funding.
