Summary of Any Incidents that Have Occurred at the Host Sites Including Tigard Police and Tualatin Valley Fire & Rescue Calls

Total calls for service: 2 (Tigard Police Non-Emergency)

- A Safe Parking participant called nonemergency to report a non-participant in the porta-potty. Police responded, talked to the person, and moved them along. No further action was needed. Safe Parking coordinator reinforced the importance of locking all site amenities when not in use.
- A Tigard teammate overheard a Safe Parking household having a verbal argument amongst themselves in the Safe Parking area and called nonemergency and the Strategic Initiatives Program Manager to respond. Police responded, checked in with participants, and took no further action. Just Compassion also responded to the call, spoke with participants, and took no further action. The household had a positive exit to a more appropriate shelter option for their situation, unrelated to this call for service.

Additional Program Information

- Just Compassion's Safe Parking Coordinator met weekly with participants to work on their goals and to address social service needs. Participants completed assessments required to enroll in services and worked towards solving housing barriers.
- The Program partnered with Washington County Community Connect and the McKinney Vento Program this month to address participants' needs.
- Just Compassion provided participants access to services beyond what's available on the Safe Parking site, including showers, laundry, gas cards, meals, and individualized case management.
